A Love Letter

Saturday, November 9, 2024 7:00 am

1. Greetings to the Christ community. This month, I would like to address the following topics: acceptance, boldness, being an agent of change/being a provocateur, and reviewing where we are as a whole and where each of you are as individuals. We will flow into these topics organically and naturally, as all good conversations go. This isn't a PowerPoint presentation at a university. It is a conversation between comrades, between souls, between soul mates.

2. I Am Mother Mary, and I Am here to support each of you in our growing community. Who are you? Say it with me. I Am _____ (fill in your name.) You are equally as valuable and important as any who have come before you. You are God in form and when you leave here, you will be a strengthened and more powerful formless part of the All of All. We give love to others and ourselves, without judgment, because we've been there before. We've been lost in the morass that is the world, and we know what it's like to be consumed by fear. We know what it's like to not see yourself in others and to fear them. We know what it's like to not have a true spiritual education that explains who we really are and what the world is for. We know about the importance of honesty, openness, and transparency. We are the collective of Christ in individual form. We are love and nothing but love. Rick, let's call this one 'A Love Letter.'

From Me to You – The Christ Letters for the Second Coming 20 You 2.0

Saturday, November 9, 2024 8:00 am

1. Rick has had his first sips of coffee. Now let's continue. Let's talk about you and about us as a whole. You are each well educated in the spiritual sense. You may have the equivalent of a master's degree or a PhD by spending years reading and applying our offerings. You know your true identity as soul, an aspect of God. You know about the ego and our purpose in overcoming it. You know that fear is the absence of love and the call for it. You know about the Holy Instant and its importance. You know about all of the major dilemmas between ego and soul. You have real, workable strategies for sorting through your thoughts and feelings. You know that being Christ is to be real, not some idealized state of consciousness. You know that Christ differs greatly in its presentation from person to person, but that it is literally God walking around in these various bodies, giving love to itself, giving a helping hand, giving a blessing here and a doing there. You know about the powers of Christ and the real potential in each of your blessings or extensions of love. You know that you are soul and are also human, with complex needs. You have a history, with both successful and failed relationships of all types. You have learned to acknowledge the past and to let go of things from it when you are ready, so that you can be free, and freedom is where your happiness is, in the here and now. You have learned to accept what life gives you, whether you like it or whether it delivers its hard lessons. And no, you didn't learn any of this from the world, because it doesn't know any of these things, only soul does, only God does. Let's call this 'You 2.0.'

The Higher Ground

Saturday, November 9, 2024 9:00 am

1. Now that we've talked about each of you, let's talk about us as a collective. We wish the world knew what we know. We wish that they would question their beliefs and open up to their soul's truth. We see the role-playing and the characters who are the stars or supporting casts of the plays that they largely wrote themselves. We know that they are largely blind to the reality behind the illusion. We see how power dynamics work in the world. We see who has power, who doesn't, and who wants more of it. We see the political games in the world as what they really are, us vs. them. 'They' are the evil others or at least suspect, while the 'us' group is right about everything and has God approving their every move.

2. We see the ego's religions. We see their materialism and search for status. We observe it all in neutrality, as hard as that is, because what we see is painful. It is disheartening to watch, while knowing that there is a better way, a real way, a true way, one that is beyond competition and beyond the simplistic duality of good and bad. We see it all as it is, as it presents itself, without judgment or condemnation, because this is our canvas. This is where we can paint a new picture with our new level of understanding. This will be called 'The Higher Ground.'

The Buck Stops Here, Buddy

Saturday, November 9, 2024 10:00 am

1. So much of what the individual Christ and the collective Christ sees when looking out into the world is different forms of meanness and viciousness, whether this is through the spoken or written word or through behavior meant to ridicule or harm. This gets our attention. We know that it is a call for love in the plainest sense and yet we see that there is clearly damage done to the intended targets. This is difficult to swallow, my loves. I know that I Am speaking to the choir. We don't want to see any of God's vessels harmed for any reason, especially knowing that in this world, it is frequently by other vessels of God. Let's be unabashedly fearless in calling this type of behavior out for what it is. It shouldn't be normal or acceptable to anyone for any reason. Don't be afraid to ruffle feathers and offend the misguided. Don't be afraid to speak about the truth. Anything that is meant to harm, punish, or destroy is contrary to God's benevolent purpose. Say so. Let those around you know that anything goes is not okay with Christ. We believe and practice loving service. Hearing the truth certainly falls in this category. Let's call this one 'The Buck Stops Here, Buddy.'

We're Here, Get Used to It

Saturday, November 9, 2024 3:00 pm

1. The title for this letter is an easy one for me. I already know what it is. It will be 'We're Here, Get Used to It.' It's a message and a motto. I think it's kind of catchy, don't you? We aren't going anywhere. No one can get rid of us this time. No, the cat's out of the bag. It's too late. Individual and collective egos will have to deal with individual and collective souls. They would like to rid their world of us, but they can't. We know too much. We know all about egos and can see through them. We know why they operate as they do. They don't scare us one bit, but they are afraid of us. They will have to get used to their own souls receiving our blessings and then growing and questioning their ego's existence. It's inevitable. Yes, they can whine and complain. They can be deceitful. They can delay their soul's awakening, but once it starts, their days of being in control are over. When a character in the world wants to know what your secret to happiness is, please share it. You are each ambassadors for the new way, the way of the heart. We're here, get used to it.

A Celebratory Prayer of Wholeness

Saturday, November 9, 2024 3:30 pm

1. This is a celebratory Prayer of Wholeness. It is our prayer. Use it often. It sums up everything about being Christ in the egoic world.

2. Dear Mother Spirit,

We join you today and every day.

Our collective is here to serve love to the loveless.

We bless the souls of all who came before us and those who are here now.

We are gardeners tending our garden.

We bless those who stand before us and those who enter our consciousness.

We ask that love will show them the way.

We ask that love will show them their true selves.

We ask that those you send to us will honor forgiveness.

So that they can be free to receive a spiritual education and join with us blessing and doing, blessing and doing,

one soul at a time.

We thank you for your loving guidance,

as you too are a gardener tending her garden.

A Heartfelt Thank You

Saturday, November 9, 2024 3:45 pm

1. This will be the final letter for the year 2024. I want to thank each Christ for reading these letters, feeling their messages with your hearts, and discussing them in groups. I want to thank Christina and Colin for the wonderful websites and their great attention to detail. I want to thank Rick for sticking with us. He has wanted to quit channeling so many times and didn't. He's helped us to produce a library of material in what is going on five years, and we are all so grateful. Our movement has needed his services and because he never said no, we want to extend our appreciation in this manner. We know this wasn't easy to juggle the demands we have placed on him, while dealing with hard things in his personal life. We see you. We see all of you and love what we see.

2. I will have a Christmas message for our community next month. For 2025, I would like to make a slight change and return to monthly letters instead of bimonthly. Let's meet the final Sunday of each month for a couple of letters instead of more every two months, if no one objects. I feel like we need to feel more connected, more frequently. I hope you agree.
